'The Keating Construction Law Update' Presented by Thomas Lazur

on

Tuesday 24th November 2015 (5:45pm for 6:00pm)

At:

The Rose Bowl, Portland Crescent, Leeds LS1 3HB

Thomas Lazur was called to the bar in 2005. His work is split evenly between High Court litigation and international arbitration. He is also regularly instructed to represent clients in various forms of ADR including adjudication, expert determination and mediation. Thomas has extensive experience in all aspects of claims management, advisory work and advocacy. He has worked with many experts over a range of disciplines on issues of liability and quantum. His advisory experience covers the full range of legal issues typically associated with construction disputes, such as letters of intent and claims associated with delay and disruption. His experience is not limited to purely construction disputes. He has been involved in a range of other commercial disputes involving issues of agency, estoppel, sham contracts, fraudulent misrepresentation, secret profits, sale of goods, restitution and contracts for the supply of electricity and gas. In addition to his work as counsel, Thomas is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, a TECBAR accredited Adjudicator, an experienced mediator, and an Advocacy Trainer for the Inner Temple.
